

NVPCA ANNUAL '26
HEALTHCARE
CONFERENCE

Transforming Today to Thrive Tomorrow

Tuesday, 10/6/26

|                   |                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 7:30am - 8:30am   | Registration and Breakfast                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 8:30am - 8:45am   | Welcome!                                                                                        | Nancy J. Bowen, MAIOPNevada Primary Care Association Tiffany Young, PhDTiffany Young Consulting LLC                                                  |
| 8:45am - 10:00am  | Keynote: The Power of Lifestyle Medicine: Transforming Patients and Practice             | Jessica Jolly, MHA, MPH, DipACLM, NBC-HWC, CHES, CLSSGBAmerican College of Lifestyle Medicine (ACLM) Ruth Michaelis, MD, DipACLMHealthPoint Kent CHC |
| 10:00am - 11:00am | AI in Action: Practical and Responsible Uses for Health Centers                          | Brian G. Rosenberg, MBAProfessor, UNLV School of Public Health                                                                                                                 |
| 11:00am - 11:30am | Break                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 11:30am - 12:30pm | Dress Rehearsing Disaster: How to Run a Tabletop Active Shooter Drill in Outpatient Care | Julie Gwin, RN, MBANorthern Nevada HOPES                                                                                                                                       |
| 12:30pm - 1:15pm  | Lunch                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

NVPCA ANNUAL '26
HEALTHCARE
CONFERENCE

Transforming Today to Thrive Tomorrow

Tuesday, 10/6/26

|                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1:15pm - 2:15pm | Break-Out Sessions <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Bridging the Gap: Designing and Sustaining Effective Transitions of Care Programs in FQHCs</li><li>• Building a Thriving Health Center Workforce: Practical Strategies, Real-World Successes, and Tools for Lasting Impact</li><li>• REACCHH Annual Meeting (Invitation Only)</li></ul> | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Holly Long Community Health Alliance Yescenia Corral Hope Christian Health Center</li><li>• Chenier Taylor American Heart Association</li></ul>                                                                                                              |
| 2:15pm - 2:30pm | Networking Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:30pm - 3:30pm | Break-Out Sessions <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Room to Think: Sustaining the Leaders Who Sustain the Mission</li><li>• Optimizing Colorectal Cancer Screening in Primary Care</li><li>• Creating Healthier Workspaces Through Ergonomics</li></ul>                                                                                     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Nancy J. Bowen, MAIOP Nevada Primary Care Association</li><li>• Lily Helzer, MPH Nevada Cancer Coalition Sydney Walters, MPH, CHW Northern Nevada HOPES</li><li>• Melissa Afterman, MS-HFE, CPE UCSF &amp; UC Berkeley</li></ul> |
| 3:30pm - 4:00pm | Networking Break - optional stretching session with Melissa Afterman in the main room                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 4:00pm - 5:00pm | Thriving in Midlife: Supporting Patients Through Menopause                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Danielle D. Grimm, MPH, MS, CNP, WHNP-BC, MSCP The Dimock Center                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 5:30pm - 7:30pm | NVPCA Reception                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

NVPCA ANNUAL '26
HEALTHCARE
CONFERENCE

Transforming Today to Thrive Tomorrow

Wednesday, 10/7/26

|                   |                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 7:30am - 8:30am   | Registration and Breakfast                                                                                           |                                                                                                    |
| 8:30am - 9:30am   | We're All In This Together: Why a Culture of Connection and Care is Essential for Our Survival                       | Anjali Rameshbabu, Ph.D.Health2Wellbeing                                                |
| 9:30am - 10:30am  | Policy Perspectives                                                                                                  | Steve MessingerNevada Primary Care AssociationJen Taylor, MPHFamiliesUSA |
| 10:30am - 11:00am | Networking Break                                                                                                     |                                                                                                    |
| 11:00am - 12:30pm | Entering and Succeeding in Value-Based Contracts: The Provisions You Need to Protect Revenue and Support Performance | Adam J. Falcone, JD, MPHFeldesman                                                       |
| 12:30pm - 1:30pm  | NVPCA Awards Luncheon                                                                                                |                                                                                                    |
| 1:30pm - 2:00pm   | Conference Summary + Call to Action                                                                                  | Tiffany Young, PhDTiffany Young Consulting LLC                                          |
| 2:00pm - 2:15pm   | Conference Prizes and Centerpiece RafflesMust be present to win                                           |                                                                                                    |

**Agenda subject to change*