

Angela Quinn CEO FirstMed Health & Wellness

Angela is committed to bringing high-quality, compassionately led health care to low-income and underserved communities. Since she became CEO in 2016, Angela has led FirstMed Health and Wellness in expanding its services to Medicaid patients across Southern Nevada. Most notably, she developed FirstMed Health and Wellness' mental and behavioral health services following the 2017 Las Vegas shooting, when the need for mental health care increased substantially across the valley. Angela is a veteran community developer with demonstrated skill and expertise in both the community and economic development sectors. Her vast experience in health care includes the creation and expansion of program and services offered, in particular around issues of nonprofit "turnarounds", health care, capacity building and sustainability. In total, Angela and her team has developed roughly $100 million in capital projects and another $100 million in programs.